I am pleased to announce the membership of five strategic plan implementation committees.

We received many excellent self-nominations from faculty and staff from across the college, and I am appreciative of and energized by your collective willingness to serve in the broad engagement of our strategic initiatives. Selections were made on the basis of the comments you submitted with your self-nominations and also in an effort to balance the committees as much as possible across the entire college community.

If you have not been selected to serve on a particular committee, you will still have several opportunities to share your ideas on each of these initiatives. Chairs of academic departments will lead faculty conversations about each strategic area and will share the information with deans, and deans, in turn, will synthesize information from all departments and share the information with the committees. Staff will be invited to participate in forums to share ideas about each initiative, and the notes from those forums will be shared with each committee. Committee members are charged with using community input as part of the research for developing proposals with which they are charged.

If you have been selected to serve, thank you in advance for the work you will be doing in the coming weeks.
